ABOUT PERIMETER PROTECTIVE SYSTEMS

Perimeter Protective Systems utilizes the world's best video analytic technology. Perimeter then adds to the equation by using only top level, senior project managers for each project. Security is a matter of overview. It is a matter of "seeing around corners" or seeing what is not obvious or seeing what is obvious but is systematically overlooked by others.

Our expertise is at your service and is dedicated to maximizing your security. We have advised police, military, prisons and industry for decades. Our technicians are expert in camera and monitoring installation and networking and integration of systems.

Because VideoIQ allows rules of behavior to be set, such as direction of pedestrian or vehicular travel, areas of interest, virtual tripwires, and so forth, our creative use of these for your environment optimizes the effectiveness.

We consider technology — of which we have the best — to be part of our overall systems approach which includes evaluating customers' procedures, identifying and resolving issues and exposures of public liability and hazards, guiding our customers in utilizing outside free resources such as neighbors, business associates and community crime prevention officers, encouraging good, honest employees and breaking apart employee thief rings. Depending on the particulars of your situation we employ physical deterrence, controlled access, electronic monitoring, and human factors. Finally, training our customers in such things as how to deal with potential violence and threats — the F.B.I. reports 18,000 workplace acts of violence per week — and how to improve safety rule compliance through proper policies, practice and protocol are vital elements of our comprehensive safety and security approach.

Perimeter Protective Systems will help you evaluate the effectiveness of your current security system, and to determine your return on investment in improved security.

Perimeter Protective Systems offers something that is truly unique. We will work with you to achieve discounts in your insurance premiums that may fully cover the cost of our system.
